The 1961

Marian

Notre Dame High School
Shreveport, Louisiana

Volume 1

Foreword

Notre Dame High School is dedicated to the glory of God and the Christian Education of youth. The genre and quality of this education are succinctly set forth by the late Pope Pius XI in his Encyclical on education. "Christian education", he declares, "takes in the whole aggregate of human life, physical and spiritual, intellectual and moral individual, domestic and social; not with a view toward reducing it in any way, but in order to elevate, regulate, and perfect it in accordance with the example and teaching of Christ." He further states that the goal of Christian education is: "To help the child to live in proper relation to God, to himself, to his fellow men and to mature through the formation of desirable habits."

Thus are accurately described the education offered to all our students here at Notre Dame and the goal toward which all administrative and instructional efforts constantly tend. Education such as this cannot fail to make the student a good Christian, a good citizen, a good member of his family, an individual well equipped to meet and solve life's problems; in fine, it cannot fail to impart to the student a well-integrated well-poised personality... the personality which should characterize every true Notre Dame student.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul F. O'Brien, donors of Notre Dame.

Dedication

On the third anniversary of the erection of this school, we the students of Notre Dame gratefully and affectionately dedicate this first edition of The Marian to Mr. and Mrs. Paul F. O'Brien, who, out of their love of God and neighbor, have so generously donated this school for the Christian education and development of the youth of Shreveport.

Faculty and Students
Notre Dame High School
Shreveport, Louisiana

Most happily do I take this opportunity to extend to Notre Dame High School - to faculty and students - my warmest congratulations upon astounding scholastic, cultural and athletic achievements.

It must be a source of great satisfaction to the faculty, to students and their parents, to the priests and to all who are interested in the school. It must, in particular, stir up emotions of joy and pride in the heart of the great benefactor of Notre Dame, Mr. Paul P. O'Brien, to whom we are everlastingly grateful.

While I rejoice that the students of Notre Dame are given unprecedented opportunities of receiving a thorough religious and secular education, I would remind them to ever live, with God's help, in harmony with the training they receive, to live as worthy Christians and patriotic citizens, in order to achieve success in this life and eternal happiness in the life to come.

Devotedly yours in Christ,

C. P. Greco

"Lovely Notre Dame, cradle of Christian Culture, bulwark of democracy, example of virtuous living, beacon that leads its youth to a fuller life here and its crowning in eternity, jewel in the crown of Heaven's Queen, we greet you."

Notre Dame Student Body
Notre Dame High School
Shreveport, Louisiana

My dear Students:

Please accept my sincere congratulations upon the publication of your first annual yearbook. This and so many other endeavors show evidence of your scholarship and true desire for knowledge. You are a great source of hope and consolation to those who direct the school of the Diocese of Alexandria. May God bless you and your faculty always!

Devotedly in Notre Dame,

H. C. Teacle

VERY REV. MSGR. H. C. TEACLE
Director of Schools

Dear Notre Dame Students:

Congratulations on your first yearbook - The Marian! Its publication coincides with Notre Dame's "coming of age," for this year Notre Dame has become a fully accredited State approved secondary school. This year, too, it sends forth its first graduates to carry into their various fields of activity the principles of Christian living with which they were imbued during their years at Notre Dame. May Our Lady help them to live continually by these principles. May she help all of us, students, personnel, parents, and friends, to be guided always by these same principles.

Graduates

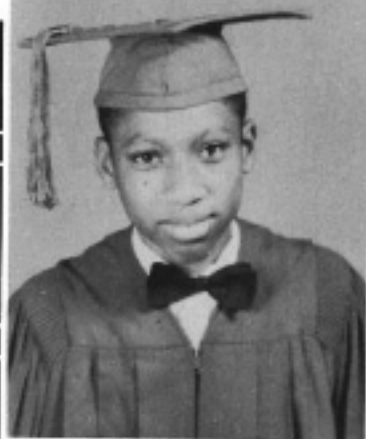

The graduate is the finished product of the school's endeavors in Christian Education. He is the school and its religious training; he is the school's activities and its faculty and underclassmen; he is every one of its teams. Yes, the graduate is the reflection of everything connected with Notre Dame—he is its masterpiece.

Class Room Scenes

The Pre-Freshman Class, with its sponsor, Sister M. Norbert, relax for a few moments from general science to smile at our camera man.

This pre-freshmanscene gives a general picture of all the classrooms at Notre Dame.

The nimble fingers of our future homemakers from the senior and junior classes work on their latest creations. Home economic is considered of vital importance in the formation of our young ladies at Notre Dame.

Senior business students are taken by surprise as our photographer pops into the type room to snap them at work.

Mr. Thomas Archey, their instructor, keeps a watchful eye on his students, noting their progress and speed achievements.

Elected by popular vote of the entire student body are these Student Councilors: (Seated) Pres., Roscoe Thomas; V.P., Hilry Huckaby; Sec., Jo Marilyn Irchrl; Treas., Carolyn Thomas. (Standing) Sandra Stevenson, Alanida Faye Green, Donna Marie Bates, Clarence Hollins, Glenda Chelette, Dorothy Rachal.

Checking outbooks and keeping everything in the library in ship-shape, are the chores of the Library Club members. (Seated) Sec., Anna M. Lake; Pres., Edna Carol Taylor; V.P., Anne Thomas; Head Librarian, Rose Mary Lee; (Standing) Mary F. LaCour, Rayla Moss, Treas., Pamela Mays, Sandra Lewing, Carolyn Green.

Trying to keep pace with this challenging space age, is the Notre Dame Science Club, under the expert guidance of Mrs. Lillian Wright.

Since the opening days of Notre Dame just over two years ago, this 62 piece band has been steadily growing in number and excellence. It has captured the hearts of all who have seen its performances with its brilliant presentation of fast moving, rigorous and precise marching, and the precision and grace with which it keeps rhythm to its own music. It has proved to be an inspiration to the football team and much of the success of the Bloodhounds can be traced back to the loyal and devoted support of the band which accompanied them on every trip.

This versatile band has also proved itself in the field of concert music. Their excellence in this field is manifested at the annual band concert which is sponsored each year in March by the Music Department at Notre Dame under the leadership of Isaac B. Gregg.

The Bloodhounds

When Coach Johnnie Pegues came to Notre Dame in the Summer of 1960, he inherited a one year old team whose record was 0-7 the previous season. He also inherited a powerful and ambitious fullback in Charles Washington. Along with him came the throwing arm of James Chalmers; the explosive speed of halfback M. J. Pennywell; the sure hands of D. and J. Metoyer, the fleet foot running of halfback

Billy Jackson and Harold Walker, the deadly tackling of Amos Buckner, E. Holden, and L. Jones, and most of all the blocking which was executed magnificently by J. Goines, J. "Tuson" Abron, C. Davis, S. LaCour, C. Pierson, V. Farley and V. Vann.

The Bloodhounds were defeated on their first outing on a pre-season game by Walnut Hill, 6-0. But Coach Pegues, fresh from the grid irons of

Stacey LaCour

Donald Metoyer

Coach Pegues talks things over with two of his backs, H. Walker and J. Chalmers.

Southern University where he was twice selected to the All GWAC team and learned the thrill and glory of winning quickly, bounced back with a pre-season win over the C.H. Lion Wildhogs. The Bloodhounds were now on their way to a state championship and an undefeated season which was rubbed out by the Mossville Pirates in the State Championship play-off at Lake Charles, La.

Outstanding Bloodhounds

M. J. Pennywell... 190 lbs. of muscle and blood, whose memory will long prevail in the hearts of the Bloodhounds, is known for his explosive power and his break-away speed. Due to a knee injury which side-lined him for three games, Pennywell ended his high school career with a total of 46 points for the season.

Charles "The Horse" Washington... a six foot one inch 190 lb. fullback who led the Bloodhounds in almost every department, including determination, was top scorer with a total of 70 points for the season. He led the team in total yard rushing and had a good record per carry. With another year to play he should develop into one of the top fullbacks in the South.

Amos Buckner... a 160 lb. "You Get Nothing Here" type end, was outstanding on defense and offense, with character like a lamb and the ferocity of a mountain lion.

James "Honey-Bee" Chalmers... a 145 lb. QB, is known and feared for his pin-point passing. He is one of the best field generals and signal callers in the city.

Here are the girls who faithfully trailed the Bloodhounds to all their games and cheered them on to victory with new familiar call of, "Go Bloodhounds go!"

An inspiration both to the band and the football team was our ever loyal drill squad, under the leadership of its captain, Carrie Taylor. Carrie will always be remembered at Notre Dame for the zeal and determination she showed in training her squad after school hours each evening.

Patsy Ruth Williams, a charming and pretty freshman student was crowned on May 4, 1960, by Anita Pearrie, when she relinquished the coveted title of Miss Notre Dame which she held for the year 1959-1960. Her escort is handsome and debonair Michael Gallion, a sophomore student, who is proud and honored to have the privilege of escorting Miss Notre Dame.

Because of her wonderful school spirit and outstanding loyalty to Notre Dame, Elbenetter Lee, a young pre-freshman student, was elected Miss Co-operation for 1960-1961.

Parents' Clubs

Officers of the Fathers' Club: Mr. V. Chelette, Pres. (not in picture) Mr. A. B. Small, Secretary; Mr. Davis, Mr. Lake Vice-President; Mr. LaCour, Mr. Thompson, Treasurer.

Since their inception three years ago, these two working clubs have wholeheartedly supported all Notre Dame projects. As a result, our curriculum has been greatly enriched and expanded, and there is no aspect of life at Notre Dame that has not been aided by their beneficent kindness. So it's "hats off" to our Parents' Clubs!
