Subject A Story

Characters: All Colonites

Setting: Xumber 12 Storyland Boulevard

This year we tell you "A STORY". It has been done through worth and pictures. A year-book in a compilation of beautiful ratios, both old and new. One, therefore, is not a sub-que state but we have tried to handle it in a slightly different moment. Through fairyland characters we have attempted to give an acre of realism. We hape that we have given you at locat a peck into that magic minor where things are exactly as we wish them.

Once Upon A Time . . .

Jane Logan Horton, Colitor-in-Chief Of The 1965 Water-Co

From early childhood our lives are filled with farrary. As we stand on the brink of adulthood we find that we must now leave this lead of magic behind. Our yearhook thems this year is "A STORY". As you recum with us via Number 12 Sampland Boulevard to vian characters, both fectional and read, we topo that it will enable you so face your future more opinionically, May we realize the may of Tapuroci can reach or a lenge in geneverance. If we had the faith of Cinderella, would are the clouds of despair and depression vanish from our lives? Solars Bood's bravery is an attribute we should all try to possion. Harmel and Greek turnly can be classified as proving examples of undying hope. A most important factor in adult extracte in the presence of love. The heastiful Steeping Beauty enemphilies the necessity of love is a way note of an eath ignore. Those very important lemons are clearly taught by simple childhood station. As graduating untion we must face life realistically. We must leave fiction behind but we should never forget the lessons which stones have taught in. Our tappy Epiewe Afters darward seen our ability to transfer from the childhood Once Upon A Time fattenies to adult applacement. The story of each of our lives will be an outgrowth of these applications. How wonderful it is to know that at both began our case upon a time, the entree to a life. The root of the journey is our to make. What see we doing about that happy ending? Let us make a pleage to road this odininal not years from now and citeratly give answer . . . for we see the only ones who can.

"Life Is A Take That Is Told". . .

Dedication

The thome of our twelfth annual, WA-LO-OO, is "A STORT". Strangely enough, we never ourgrow the tingle of expectation we experience when we hear, ONCE UPON A TIME....

How wooderful it is to turn back the pages of time with the magic woven by these wools which how come down to as and go on and on ad inflations.

Today, and possibly twenty years hence, we shall open our 1905 yearbook. We shall currenther, and fendly, a very gracious tady. Through principus memories we shall be able to re-live moments which were milestance in our lives as students and teachers.

Stories are very real when the setting is the office of the courseler and we are the leading characters. The stories may be trugic, butterous or factical, but we are, nevertheless, deeply concerned about the effect we have upon our public. What will the critica have to say? How will we accept their decision? Your manager or connecter has the another. We are proposed for whatever conver by skilled hands and an understanding banet. It is because of these stories, polygour and larring, that we love and after the person to when our armend is deficated. One is that manager, that courselor, that understanding friend. She laves us and that leve in returned in full measure.

For the many, ONCE UPON A TIMES, for which she has given in happy codings we are grateful. For wise advice, for lowe and devotion to each of us.,. We the students and faculty of the Walter Leets Cohen Senior High School dedicate our 1965 yearhook to you, bits, Gladys Porter Williams, Your life is truly the most besittiful and listing of stories for it cornes from the tips and hearts of those who will remember and love you forever ofter.

A Story For 1965

To those of us who were so fortunes to have east to us, or to have read to canches, the great stories of fathe shift faths there has come a harringe of great richness. How well do we remember the worthy abstract qualities which the accient gols and goldeness were appeared to have presented. Miscove was the goldens of windows, blan the god of was, Venus the goldens of love, — and we convenies how hope came into the world from Fundow's how. Through the contrades those qualities have affected man and his every activity in world binory.

The Colum yearhook of 1965 wishes to place the activities of the school in a spectrum and framework of the four virtues which we feel are so important to young people raday. These are Persentance, Patch, Hope and Love.

In speaking of these virtues, I shall mention four men, who, I feet, have in the life time of each student in Cohen School determinated them so variety in our world. When one thinks of persentance one must think of Pope John XXIII, who brought to the Catholic Church -- to all Christianity -- a new viewpoint of the Unity of God and Man, -- and who from such berthic beginnings changed the world. When we think of Faith we think of John Fitzgenald Kannedy, who had such faith that the American people would one day live up to the principles of democracy. When we think of hope we must think of fresident typoles Johnson, who has brought hope to the undesprivileged millions who had been without hope for so long. When we think of low, we think of Dr. Mantin Lather King, whose doctrine of love has changed the thinking of all harmonity and made him worthy of the Mobel Peace Frize for 1964. These fear men each of us in our achool acid emiliant; for what these men exemptify is found in the philosophy of our school, -- and in these we believe.

Whatever good or pleasure may come from this our 1965 yearbook, whenever it may go, they these victors be extended turn the hearts and minds of all it searboo, -- and may we at the school continue to grow in their graces.

To each of you I extend my best wishes that your blessings might be manifold and your happinesses many.

Sinomely

A Story Of Service

MIG. ALTHEA JONES HEINS

Mrs. Althea Jones Heins, wife, mother, tracker, cafeteria manager. and friend of all who are at Coben, will retire at the end of this school year after many years of service to the schools of Orleans Parish. Mrs. Heins was first a teacher, then a between the and mother, and to us at Colum School the has been the best of mothers. Her helpfolioss, her willingness to assist wherever has services were needed. and ber unsetfish devenion to the school marit our peaks. As a teacher Mrs. Helso can hardly be excelled. Under her natelage more young weeren have been waited for special cafeteria services and manageriat duties than under any single manager in the department. Mrs. He'rs is leved by all the scaleans of Cohen School who know her; and her insistence upon properly prepared wholesome lunches has spread bet fame beyond the walls of the school, Her place will be a hard one to fall; but she has done a quality of work which will make her long-remembered in our school community. She deserves a rest from her long years of fine service; and our fondset wish, as she leaves us in June, in that the will have much happiness in the years of her retirement.

A TRIBUTE TO MRS. GLADYS PORTER WILLIAMS

We are honored to be a part of your very fine story. You have been a wonderful sponsor and friend. We have made many people happy because you taught us the art of creating happiness for others through giving. For the many lessons we have learned and the advice you have given your "Girls" through the years we say "Thank you for everything."

With all of our love,

THE ALL GIRLS CLUB

And so, Mrs. Williams, the Faculty, Students and Staff of Wa-Lo-Co present to you a story for 1965. This is your story and ours. We have tried very hard to make it one to remember. Whether we have succeeded or not is another story. We can only wait and see, for life is like that. But with you as a beacon light leading us on through this entire production, we venture a guess... "And they all lived happily ever after."
