The demolition of old "Xavier", July 2, 1953, marked the beginning of a new stage in Xavier Prep's life. Already being erected was the building now familiar to so many.

Times-Picayune

The next important date in the historical background was September 12, 1954. On this day our beloved late Archbishop Joseph F. Rummel, assisted by Rev. Joseph G. Vath, blessed the cornerstone of the new Prep building.

Soon, it is hoped, our Alma Mater will boast of this modern gym-cafeteria unit which promises to be not only beautiful in structure but also an adequate answer to an urgent need at present.

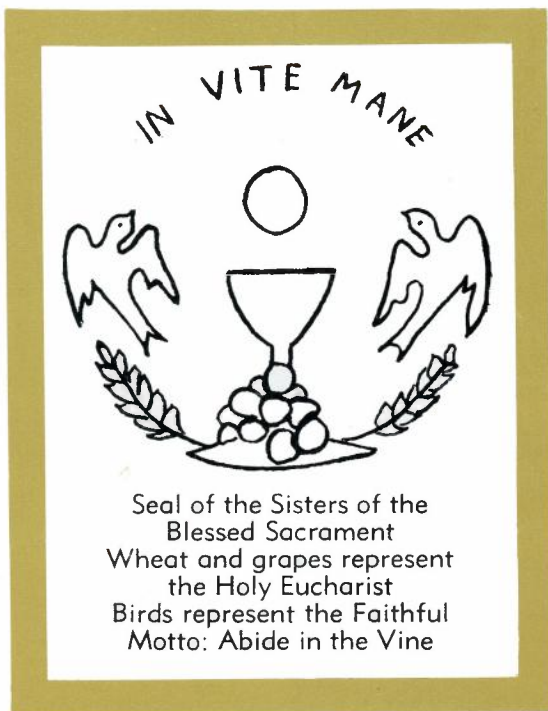

With the presentation of CRESCENDO we are endeavoring to relive, re-create, and celebrate Xavier Prep's fifty years of outstanding existence. Yes, this is our GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY — our GOLDEN JUBILEE

The occasion being such, we wish to present some highlights in the history of Xavier Prep. Let us share with you the true picture of this, our Alma Mater. It is not our purpose to build up the reputation of our school with fancy words and pictures. We shall let Xavier Prep speak for herself. Through the living forces within her, she will, on this her Golden Anniversary, tell of her past, her present and also her plans for the future.

Reverend Mother M. Katharine, Foundress

On this Golden Anniversary of Xavier University Preparatory it is fitting that we dedicate our 1965 annual,

CRESCENDO

to you, the Sisters of the Blessed Sacrament. It was you, under the guidance of your foundress
Mother Katharine Drexel, who came to New Orleans in 1915 at the request of Archbishop Joseph E. Blenk to establish a school in his archdiocese. In the span of fifty years you have built that first, simple school into an accredited educational institution where you shape the characters and guide the actions of hundreds of God's children. Such growth has only been possible through love, patience, interest, and supernatural aid. These you possess in abundance. In gratitude and love, then, we sincerely dedicate CRESCENDO to you.

When did it all begin? Why? How?

To answer these questions about Xavier Prep, together we must go back in history about half a century—yes, fifty years.

During his office as Archbishop of New Orleans, Joseph E. Blenk became acutely aware of the inadequacy of educational facilities for his people. In order to remedy this problem, he appealed to Reverend Mother Mary Katharine, the foundress of the Sisters of the Blessed Sacrament. So, at the Archbishop's request a group of these sisters came here in 1915 and opened a school using the recently vacated Southern University building. Thus Xavier Prep had its humble beginning with a few sisters and a small but enthusiastic group of students.

In 1917 the first graduating class consisted of 25; in 1940 there were over 100. The new Xavier University Preparatory opened in 1953 to accommodate 500 students and now we are literally bursting at the seams with 714. We have, this year, not only the largest enrollment ever but also the largest graduating class: 174.

Here in our still new building is carried on the day to day growing business of education . . .

Our Principal

Mrs. Feinhals and Mother consult the records

Mother Maria Concetta works closely with the members of the faculty and the students to insure the efficient management of Xavier Prep. It is this personal quality above and beyond her interest, efficiency and kindness which gives our Principal that uniqueness possessed by only a few in a position such as hers.

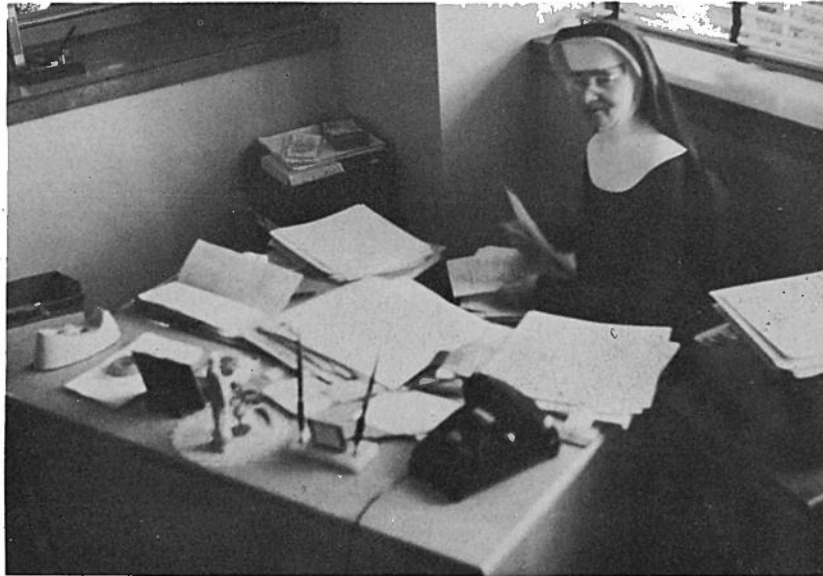

"Don't forget to keep your receipts".
Sr. M. Chrysostom, Theatrice Johnson, and Sandra Walker.

Have you problems in the line of admit slips, receipts, safety-pins, or plain old advice? Our Assistant Principal, Sr. M. Chrysostom, supplies the solutions with a smile.

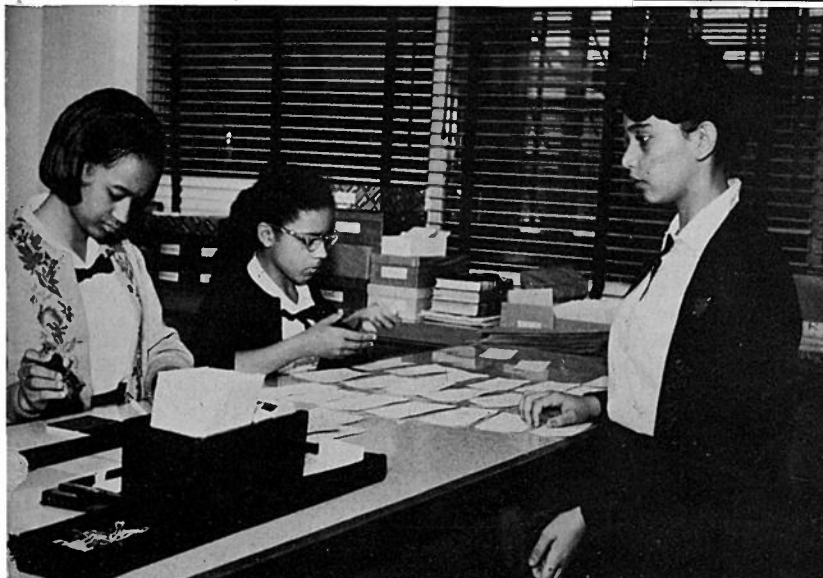

Auxiliary Corps:

Are you worrying about registration, record cards, or transcripts? We have someone to help you, too. Everyone agrees that our Registrar, Sr. M. Xavier did great work in her department this year.

Many of the students generously help out in the Office in spare moments. You might call them the assistants to the Assistant.

Early morning sorters on the job! Lenette Fortune, Cerlida Gordon and Katherleen Pichon.

Permit Us to Introduce

now one of the most important groups in the organization of our high school. Here are the people responsible for the clean, attractive environment in which we pursue our education. Thanks are certainly in order to our maintenance crew whose daily efforts to keep our twelve year old building looking young and beautiful have paid off in the form of student pride and visitors' compliments.

Mrs. Irma Kendall adds the woman's touch to keeping the Prep shining.

Mr. Herman Bastian keeps the "new look" going on the first floor.

Mr. O'Neal Bastian's work takes him from furnace to second floor and many places in between.

Our Classes

As evidenced by these trophies, the scholastic activities carried on in our classes are high in standard as well as results. Having a qualified staff of both laymen and religious, and utilizing modern equipment and methods contributes greatly to success in the business of education. Perhaps you would like to see for yourself the atmosphere in which we work.

Ease of Communication

self-confidence—composure, physical and mental—dramatic dexterity—these are the benefits offered by the speech course. Such qualities are most important in the development of the individual and, realizing this, the speech students sought self-improvement in the form of debates, informal speeches, discussion groups, readings and dramatic productions. This year one of the big successes of the speech class was the afternoon they entertained us with two one-act plays: "The Aldrich Family" and "The Devil and Tom Walker".

"Meet Mr. Mike!"

Concerned with Council changes: Phyllis McKendall, Sr. M. Jane, Pauline Legeaux, Yolanda Ancar.

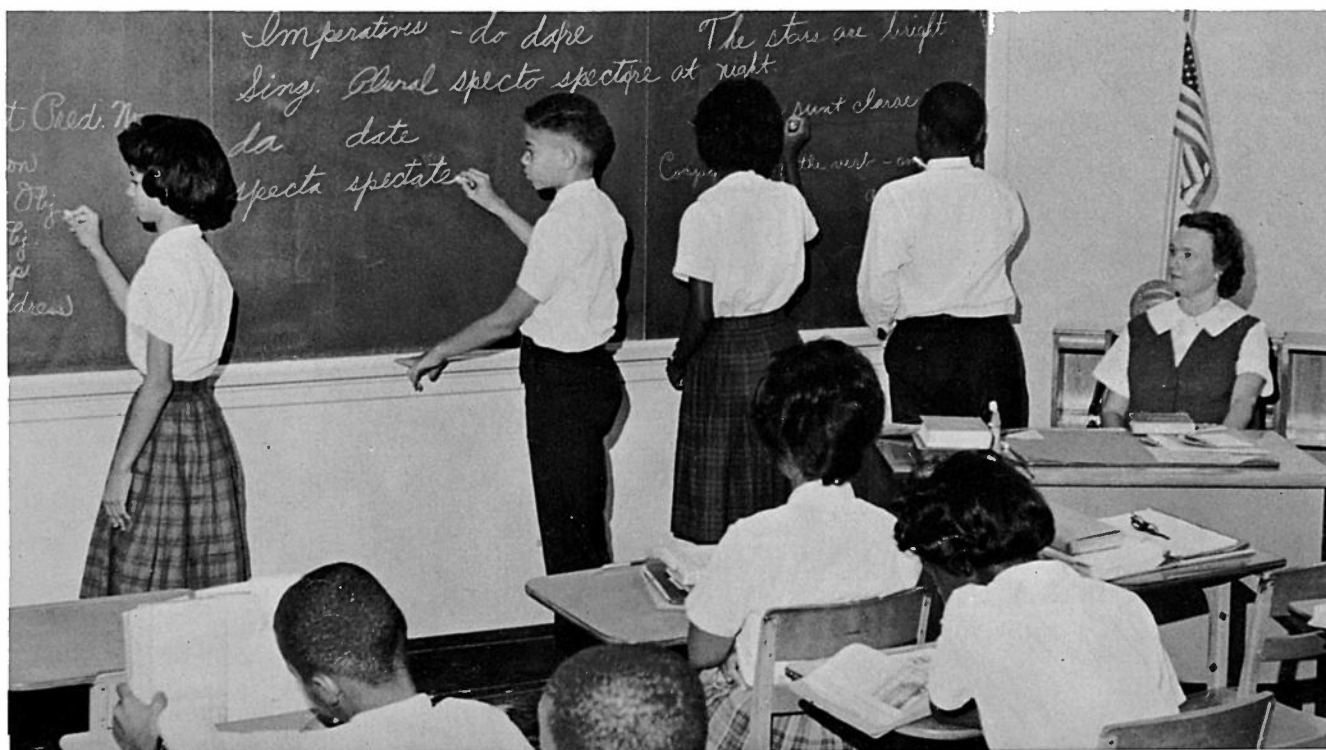

"Credo In Unum Deum..." Oops!

"I believe in one God . . ." Latin classes went on but religion students put away the Latin as almost obsolete. The current language being used in the Mass, the center of our faith, is English. In addition to this change the sacred liturgy has undergone many others which were introduced by the Ecumenical Council, Vatican II. These dramatic changes and their effect upon the faithful were of particular importance in the year's study.

Despite changes Latin still has its advantages. It may be considered a dead language, but it has given life to many modern tongues. Students realize its historical value in what it tells of early Rome; its rulers, people and customs.

Latin holds its own for freshmen Phyllis Nabonne, Lucien Charlot, Deborah Stuart and Jerome Taylor. Miss Gladys Forrest's quick eye watches the chalk talk.

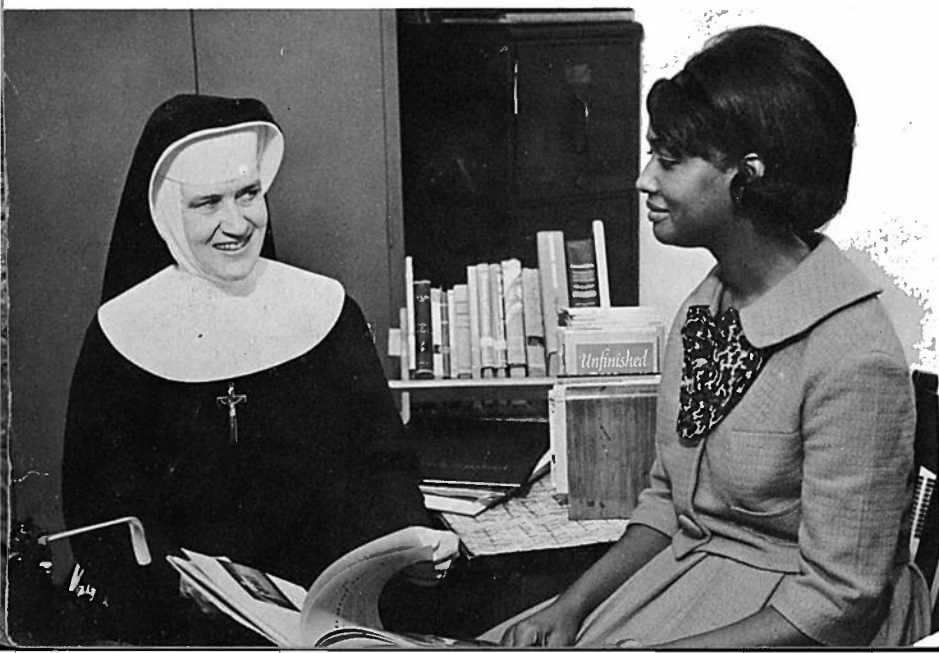

Prep English students learn quickly that their best friend is the well-stocked library. Mrs. Harper and Sr. M. Stanislaus give assistance to beginning researchers.

Did You Know That English Is Not

Sr. M. Stanislaus, Librarian, shows Mrs. Harper some of the latest ready-for-circulation titles.

just grammar and spelling but also composition, vocabulary, and literature of all lands? The study of the native language is not a mechanical process; it permits the student to express himself in various ways. Through oral and written composition he uses his understanding of his language to communicate to others his thoughts and ideas. Literary visits to peoples and places give an awareness of all.

Skillful, courteous service to fellow students and faculty is the aim of the Library Council.

Before and after school the LC's "man" the circulation desk, keep records up-to-date, shelve books, re-condition worn out editions, and make sure the latest news is available on the newspaper and magazine racks.

The processing of new books from typing pockets and cards to stylusing classification numbers on covers is a specialty of the "crew"

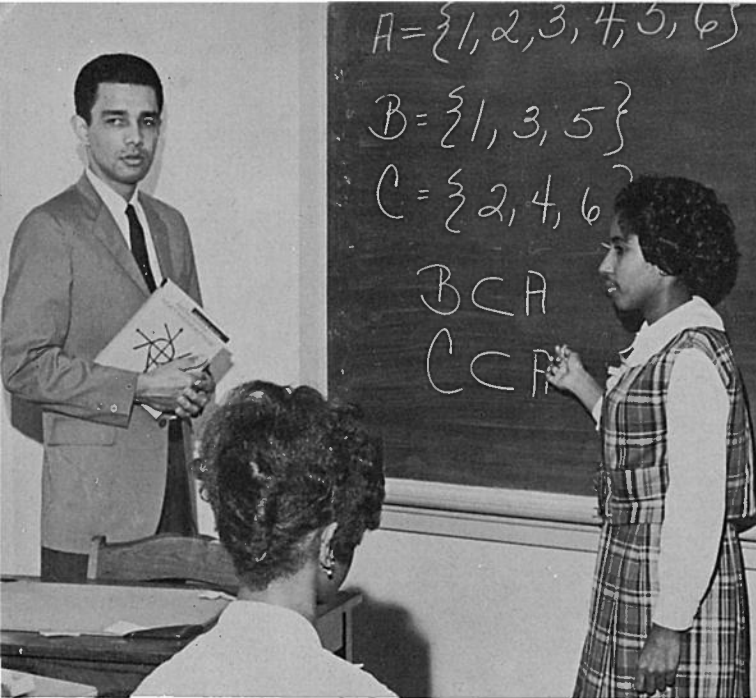

The latest library attraction, the Paperback Bookstore, is stocked and operated by our dependable library assistants.

Whatever your reading taste or research problem our nearly 10,000 volume library and capable Library Councilors will see that you are satisfied.

"LC's" as the members of Xavier Prep's Library Council are called, are the power behind the scene in our school's library.

Henry Howard interrupts a neat construction to check on the camera while Mrs. Duronslet gets another question ready.

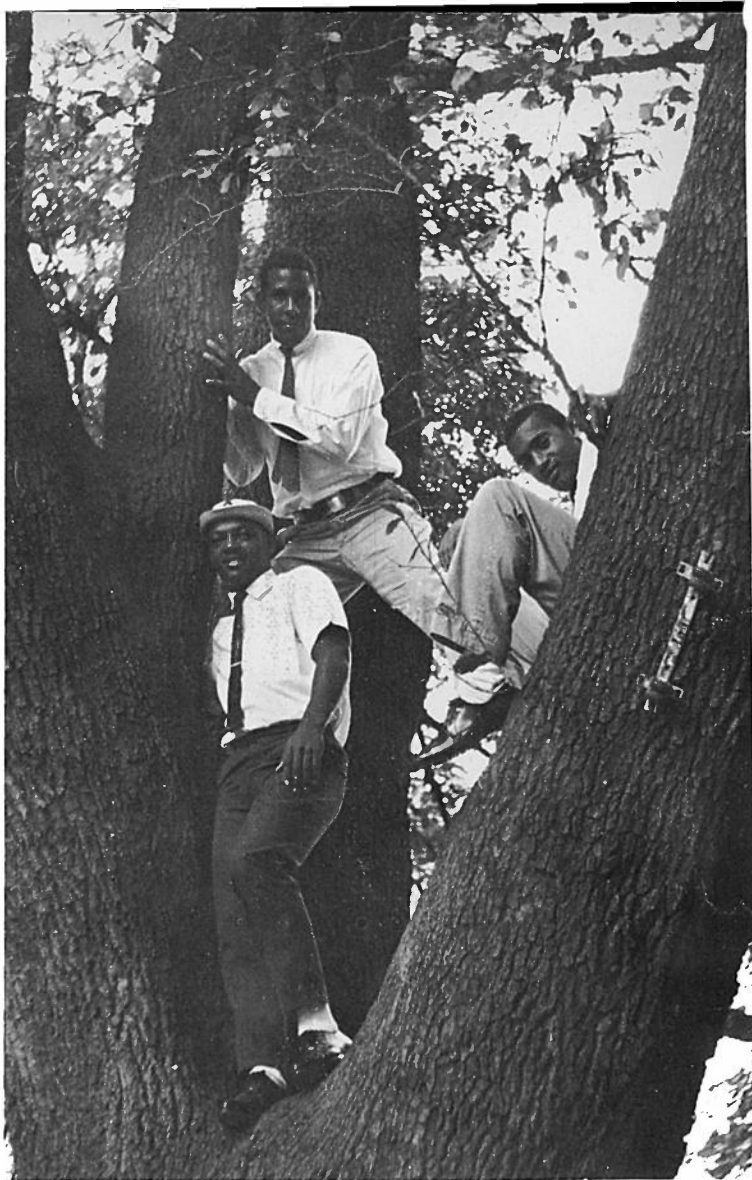

Kyle Meriwether, encouraged by Sr. M. Ignatius, questions her classmates on some of the properties of the number system.

Remember When

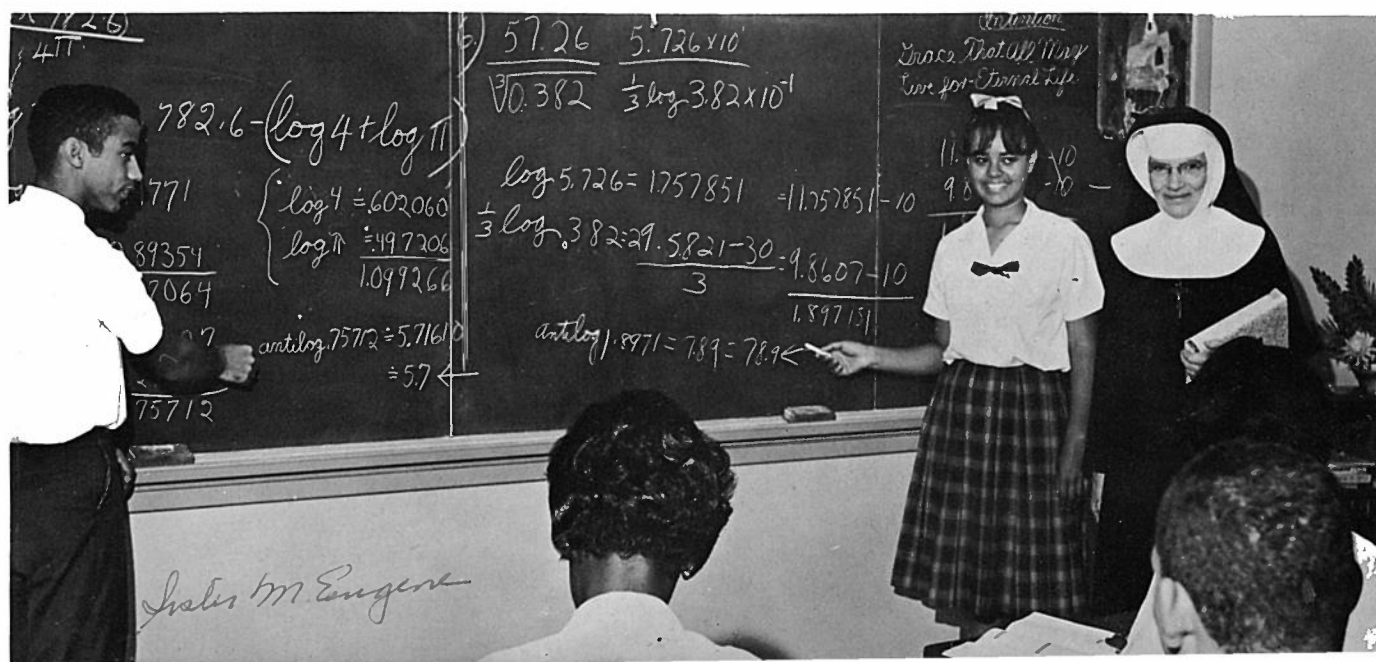

a math course consisted of the old regulars — triangles, rectangles, square roots, cube roots, and quadratic equations? Those were the good old days! ?

It is no longer plain math—it is MODERN MATH. A new language, new methods, new tools, and a new point of view are often used to put across a not-so-new idea. Math has become a unified field of study and students of algebra, geometry, and senior math enjoyed the classes that weren't quite like they used to be.

Whitman Wilcox, Albert Dugue and Israel Fields heard someone say: "math is for the birds" and decided to find out.

Success brings smiles of satisfaction. Michael Saizan, Jessica DeMouy, Sr. M. Eugene.

Mrs. Bowman's economic Pros and Cons all set to open a lively discussion period.

"You remember what I said about this little spot, don't you?" asks Mr. James of his history class.

"No Man Is An Island..."

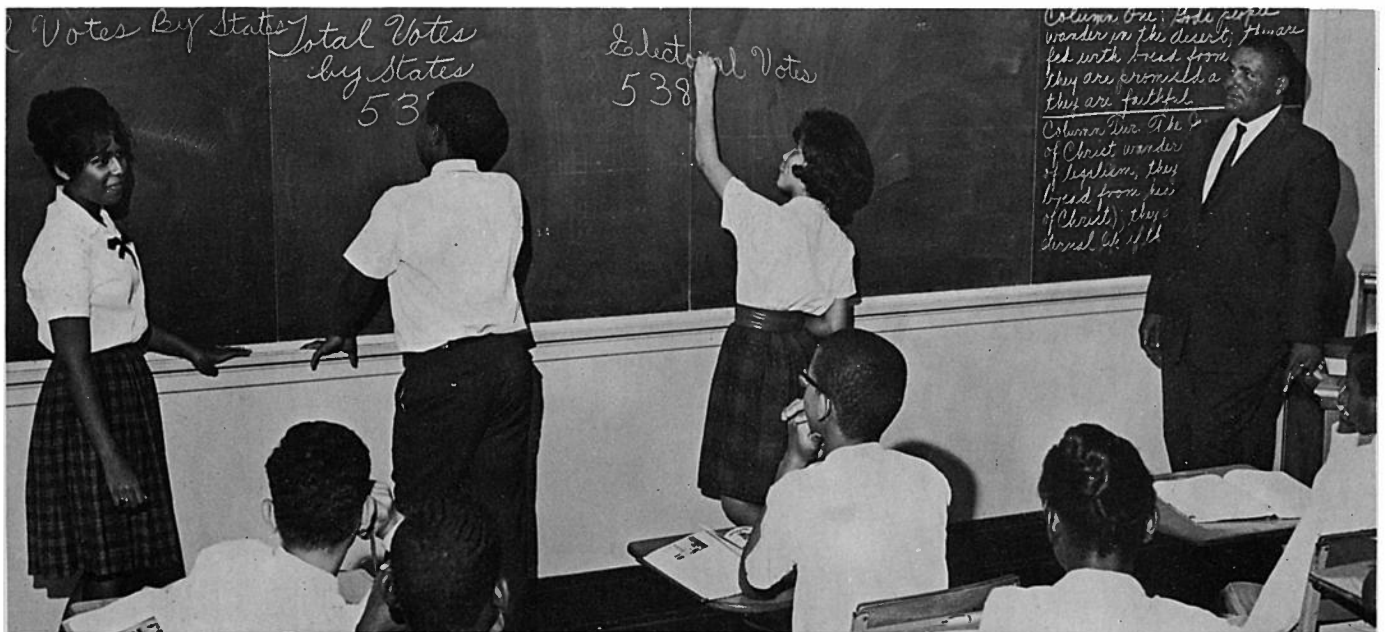

Joycelyn Theard seems pleased with Mr. Wright's evaluation of her work.

No, he is a social being living in a social world. He must know something of the government and law of the land. Knowledge of the business of production, supply, and consumption is also important. There is no better way of learning how to cope with today's world than by learning about yesterday's world.

All of this, the how and why of society, is the business of our social sciences: civics, economics, sociology, American and world history.

The World Is Shrinking and peoples within hours of each other need some effective means of communication to insure the understanding that plays so important a role in peaceful relations among nations. Language is that means. In step with the changing world, our language department offers two-year courses in both of the widely spoken modern languages: French and Spanish. Prep linguists converse confidently in their new tongue since much emphasis is placed on actual conversation while rudiments of grammar and the enriching background of French and Spanish culture round out the modern language program.

Welcome to the department of bacteria, hydrogen chloride, and atomic particle models. Our general scientists took an active interest in all of these things. But, of course, there were also the specialists. Students of biology attempted to delve into the depths of the mystery of life. The composition of matter and the changes it undergoes were the chief concern of the amateur chemists and the physics students were awed by the laws of matter and energy tucked away in the physical universe.

This year leathercraftsmen tooled and fashioned belts, wallets and purses as future architects were introduced to the precision of scale drawing. Handsome lamps, tables and bookshelves—not to mention a billiard table—resulted from careful woodwork with hand and power tools while rejuvenated library furniture, new shelving in the office and untold major and minor repairs throughout the school made everyone appreciate our do-it-yourself department.

Then join us in our cafeteria. Although the lunch period wasn't the longest period of the day, it was certainly the favorite. It's also a fact that a superabundant supply of calories was consumed by going, glowing and growing Preppers.

And for those who consumed a few too many calories there was a vigorous physical education program of intramural sports and outdoor exercises to keep all in trim.

"Hands up!"—done to a musical tune—not the point of a gun.

the cultivation of a closer relationship between the faculty and students resulting in a smooth-running school—is the goal of our Student Council. Being an organization of enthusiastic representatives from each homeroom and activity group, with a dynamic faculty moderator, the Council contributed much this year to a spirit of self-discipline and school pride by winning the cooperation and personal involvement of each student and faculty member.

Sanctification —

first of self, then of neighbor—this is the Christian ideal basic to the religious organizations of X.P. Here are found young adults who are not satisfied with doing the barest essentials; their desire is to achieve Christian perfection. Their model is the Perfect One,

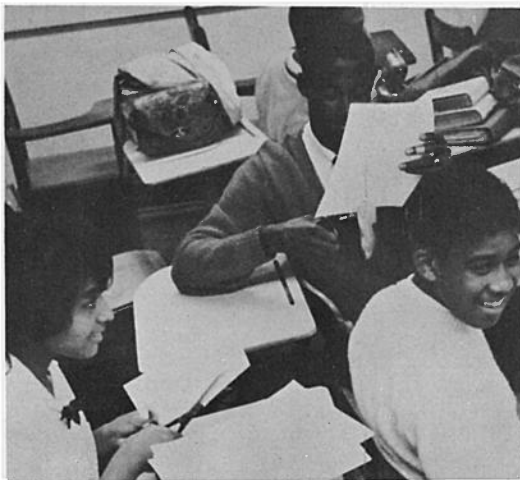

Jesus Christ—their inspiration, Mary, Our Mother. Here religion is presented not just as a course of study but as a way of life. It's organized for action. Among the groups active in the promotion of a fuller Christian life are the League of the Sacred Heart and the Legion of Mary whose objective is to bring people closer to Mary and her beloved Son by fostering solid devotion and practical charity.

The program of the C.S.M.C. is threefold: study of the missions, prayer, and sacrifice for the missions. School-wide mission-mindedness was shown in the generous mission collections averaging $140 a month.

Careful observance of the Sodality prayer life is promoted, "lest we build on sand".

Retreat,

a time of special communication between the inner being and God, will be remembered especially by this year's graduates who said of their Retreat Master: "He knew what he was talking about," and of the retreat: "I don't think you could get anything better!"

Father said: "Pray with whatever words come to you"—and it works!

"... as long as a song is strong in my soul." Sr. M. Ruth Catherine directs Concert Chorus.

On Stage, In Concert, Over Radio,

we've seen and heard our talented and well-trained fifty-member chorus. Musical programs for the student body and public were superbly done and evidenced by the Band and Chorus concert, "Waves of Rhythm".

An invitation to appear on Station WYLD gave our singers a chance to hear themselves as others do on the play-back.

The highlight of the musical year was the delightful presentation of Victor Herbert's operetta, THE FORTUNE TELLER, performed for the enjoyment of an SRO audience—a work of disciplined timing, fine acting, and vocal superiority.

Carol Augustine as Muzette, the Fortune-Teller, sings of her way of life and her people in the fast-moving "Romany".

After Having Worked diligently with the books, we Preppers often take time out for recreation.

A fun-for-all Fall Festival started off the year's happy program. Dances, always in season, were our favorites—the Homecoming Dance, the Happy Holiday Christmas Ball, and the most colorful dance of the year: the Carnival Ball where everyone from "Ben Casey, M.D." to "Bozo, the Clown" was there for the gaiety of Mardi Gras set in the atmosphere of the Nile. The highlight of the entire evening was, of course, the presentation of Her Majesty, Queen Janice Hamilton, and her gracious Court. Prep's 1965 Talent Show was a standing-room-only evening of top young talent; the whole show a masterpiece of perfect timing, dignified showmanship and lots of fun.

Both the P.T.A. and Dads' Club sponsored, organized and supervised these activities and for this interest and effort to make our social life the finest possible we are very thankful.

A Bouncing Ball,

elusive rim, time running out, horn grown hoarse from starting and stopping so many spirited games—these are the symptoms of the fast, skillful game—basketball. Both Prep teams turned in good records—the Seniors came out District Champs and won their first round at the State Tourney while the Juniors took the District's Runner-Up Trophy and closed the season with one victory which was very special.

Football has been for many years the top sport at the Prep and the 1964 version of "Yellow Jackets" tried hard to prove it finishing a well fought season with a 5-3-2 record. This earned for them the District Runner-Up Trophy, the Dapremont-Gill-Nellon Memorial Trophy and a full-course Star Banquet.

Eating up at the close of a good season.

Xavier, St. Aug. tilt leaves neither victor

By CLARENCE JUPITER

Last Sunday's Catholic classic in City Park stadium between '63 state champion St. Augustine and runner-up Xavier Prep ended in a 6-6 tie. The Xavierites covered themselves with glory as they took everything hurled at them and heaved more back, forcing the mighty Purple Knights to play catch-up in the last quarter.

This was the second consecutive year the cross-town rivals fought to a stalemate. Unlike last season's 0-0 rain-soaked afternoon battle, this was a night-time duel fought under ideal weather conditions.

It was a match in which personalities were as important as personnel... where Xavier coach Willie McKee extracted that heaping extra measure of raw courage from his handful of two-way players to stymie the most feared prep grid machine in the state. Even with key men Macklin Simmons and Glen Alexander out, coach Eddie Flint's undefeated Knights were pre-game favorites to whip outmanned and twice beaten Xavier. Instead, Xavier almost beat them.

Flint is too smart to discount the Yellow Jackets, because they have pulled this trick before and they will undoubtedly do it again — but if any of his proud football players were overconfident, they must have left the field somewhat shaken.

THE GAME was a thriller from the outset. Wayne Reese of Xavier and Freddie Johnson of St. Aug. provided most of the thunder with their power running. But for three quarters, each team would hold when it counted, until the action-packed final period when both scored and missed the extra point try.

Xavier's Reese was everywhere. He scored the game's first touchdown in the fourth quarter, almost got away twice in the first half, made crucial stops and pass interceptions all evening. End Wilbert Carter and tackle Fred Smith were also outstanding on defense for Xavier.

Freddie Johnson was carried off the field with a broken leg near the end of the game. After the Prep scored he led the Knights all the way to the Xavier ten before the mishap. Alvin Lee came in, plowed to the six, and ran into the end zone to score on the next play. Then Xavier's entire forward wall swarmed over Emile Labat, blocking his attempted kick for the extra point.

During the last two minutes there was some more see-sawing as each team got within scoring distance only to have the threat defused by tough defense. Then and earlier in the game, St. Aug. passers were hitting their men, but the receivers could not hold onto the ball.

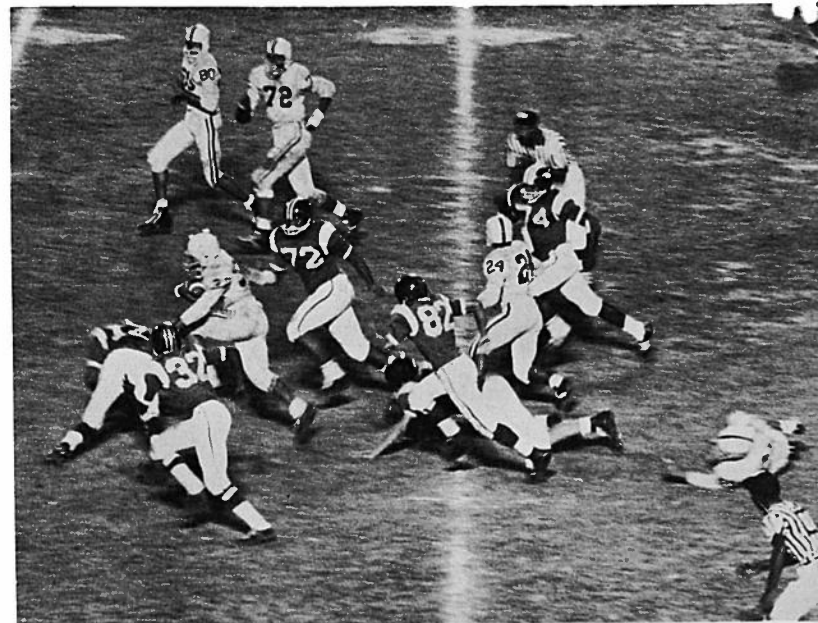

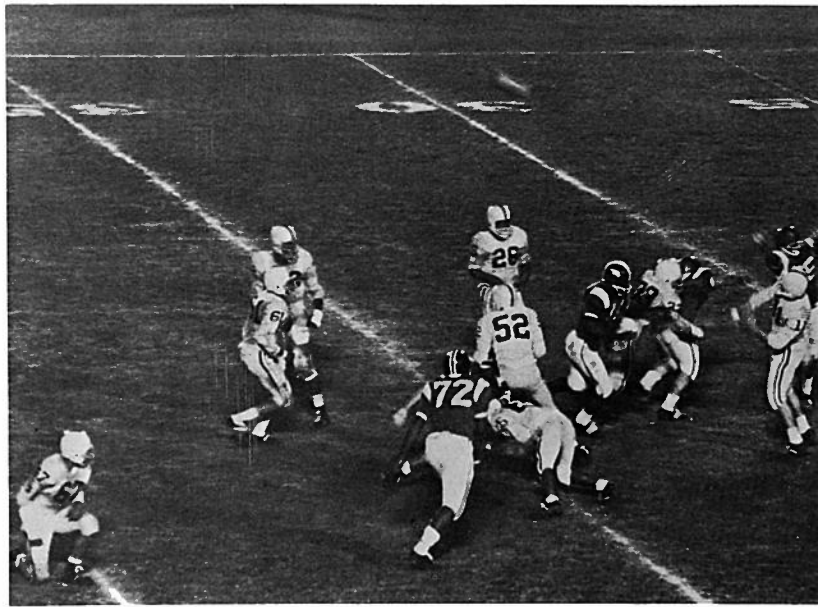

FLINT HAD to shift his men some to fill in a few gaps. Ernest Johnson, who normally alternates with Alvin Lewis at quarterback, played much of the evening as a halfback. And to complete the civil-war touch in this battle that divides families, Alfred Reese played flanker for St. Aug. while brother Wayne was workhorse for Xavier.

The game was televised on station WYES.

Clarion-Herald

After the game the Dapremont-Gill-Nellon Memorial Trophy was awarded to the Prep on the basis of most first-downs and greatest penetration. Since its establishment, Prep has won 6 games; St. Aug., 5; and this was the second tie.

The Staff commends, for their enthusiastic support of CRESCENDO 1965, the following graduates: Herbert Baudy, Romona Baudy, Stella Chase, Elaine Collins, Ida Daniel, Jessica De Mouy, Janet McDonald, Sandra Ricard, Wanda Rouzan, Paula Saizan, Lynn Sarpy, Phyllis St. Julien and Andrea Tyler.

Our Friends

Each year, without fail, our friends generously contribute to the funds needed to publish the annual. We thank them sincerely and ask you to patronize their businesses whenever possible.

There you have it—the business called education from start to finish.
Or is it finished?

We have diverse interests, goals, and endeavors; things which are not in themselves fulfillments. They must be fulfilled through the acquisition of knowledge but more so through the right use of it as the basic tool of life.

The opportunities which are afforded us now are the same as others have had. How did they use them? How will we? We may be at the culmination of our high school career; we are also at the commencement of life.

Whether graduation will mark the end of our formal education or the beginning of a higher education, we must remember to use our knowledge for the good of others; use it wisely and honestly. Then our long range goal of perfect peace and happiness will be reached. We cannot do this alone. "God's abundant grace will have to be employed to supply the CRESCENDO of spirit, growth and ideals surrounding Xavier Prep on this Golden Anniversary."
