Principal's Message

America is often thought of and referred to as the land of opportunity, and truly it is. Opportunity is present everywhere, although we are not always able to see it. It is limited only to the extent that the individual fails to recognize it and take advantage of it. The more education one has and the more intense his training, the more apt he will be to see opportunities and to grasp them. There are opportunities unlimited for any person who is willing to pay the price in study and preparation so that he will be ready to step up as the way opens. There are opportunities at the top in every field of endeavor.

Let me urge you to take advantage of these opportunities that are yours for the taking. By all means, continue your schooling if at all possible. Be ready for the opportunities that come your way.
