ALTO HIGH SCHOOL

IN MEMORIAM

MR. PETER HAYNES

THE Real man, the spirit of man, is neither born nor does it die. Unborn, undying, ancient, perpetual, and eternal, it hath endured and will endure forever. The body may die, be slain, be destroyed completely, but he that hath occupied it remaineth unharmed.

From the "Bhagavad Gita"

Alma Mater

We love the green and so dear,
As the years do come and go,
To us they mean just loyalty,
And the palin old Golden Rule.

The air is filled, our chorus raised
From the earth to heaven up above,
With voices raised with singing praise
To the school we dearly love.

CHORUS

For old Alto High my dear,
For old Alto High,
We'll always lift our banners
For old Alto High.

DEDICATION

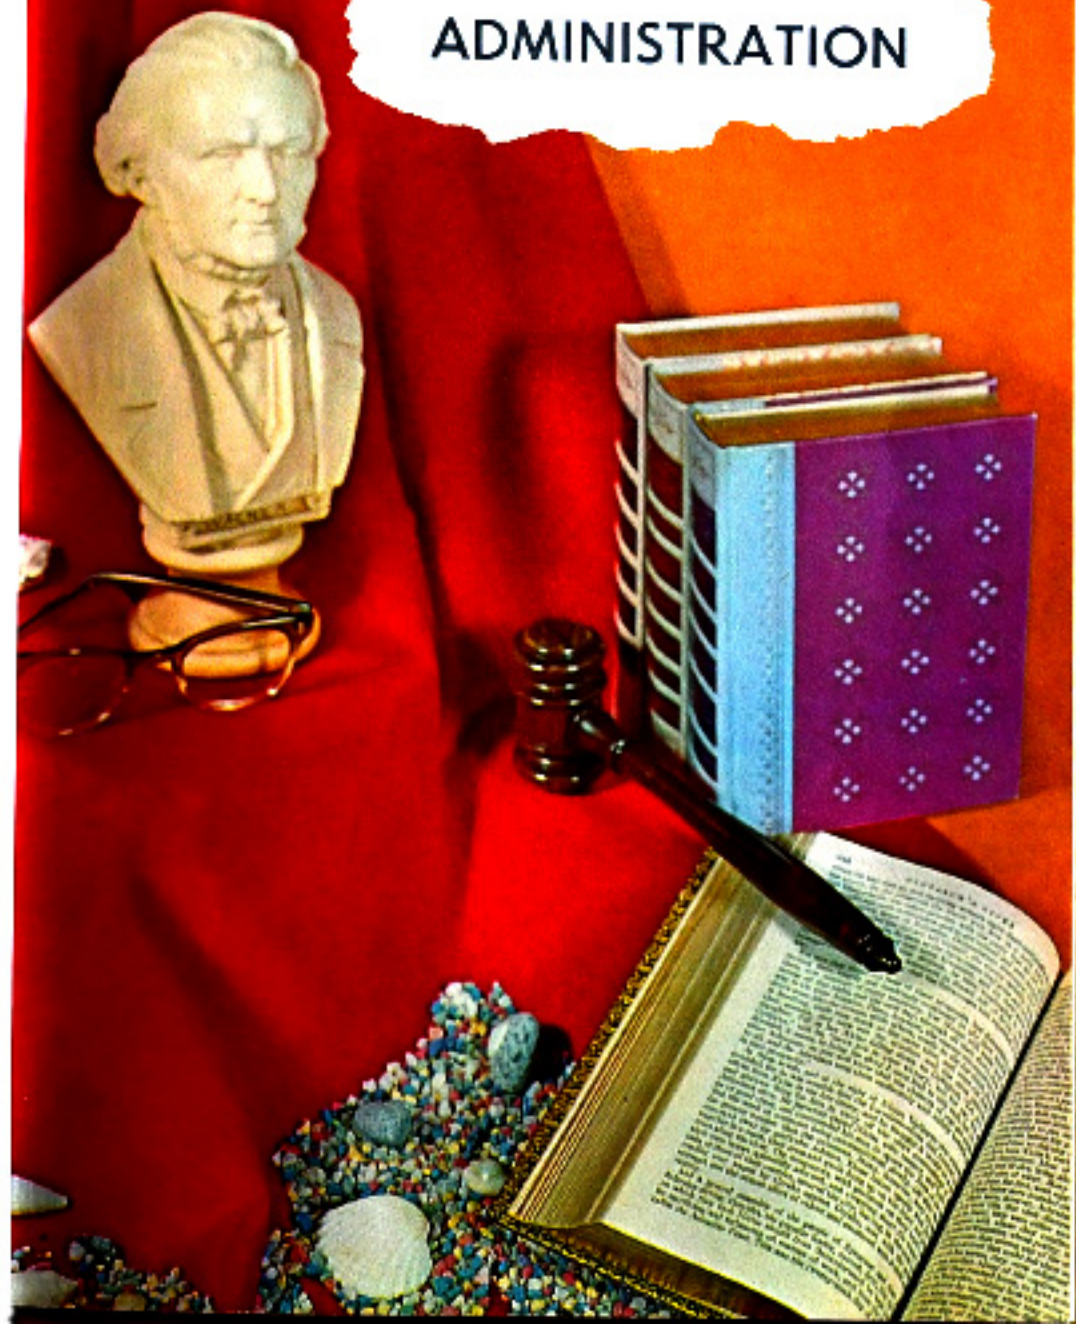

To you, Mrs. Edla Dummings Britton, we respectfully dedicate the 1964 ANNUAL of the Alto High School.

You blessed our community with your birth. You enlightened our community with your teaching. You glorified our community with your devotion to God and to country.

Your life is a criteria for greatness. Your service as church leader, civic worker, teacher, and principal is not only strength to our lives intellectually and materially, but also seasoning for our hearts for the good, the true, and the godly.

You will live forever in our hearts, deeds and thinking.

ADMINISTRATION

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

We are interested in determining the full and true meaning of the production of this ANNUAL. We are eager to measure its effect, present and future, upon the students, the teachers, the parents, and the community.

Several elements of the value of this ANNUAL are clearly visible:

It brings the school and community closer together in interest, objectives, methods, and procedures.

It raises the worth of the school in the community.

It increases the element of love for the school.

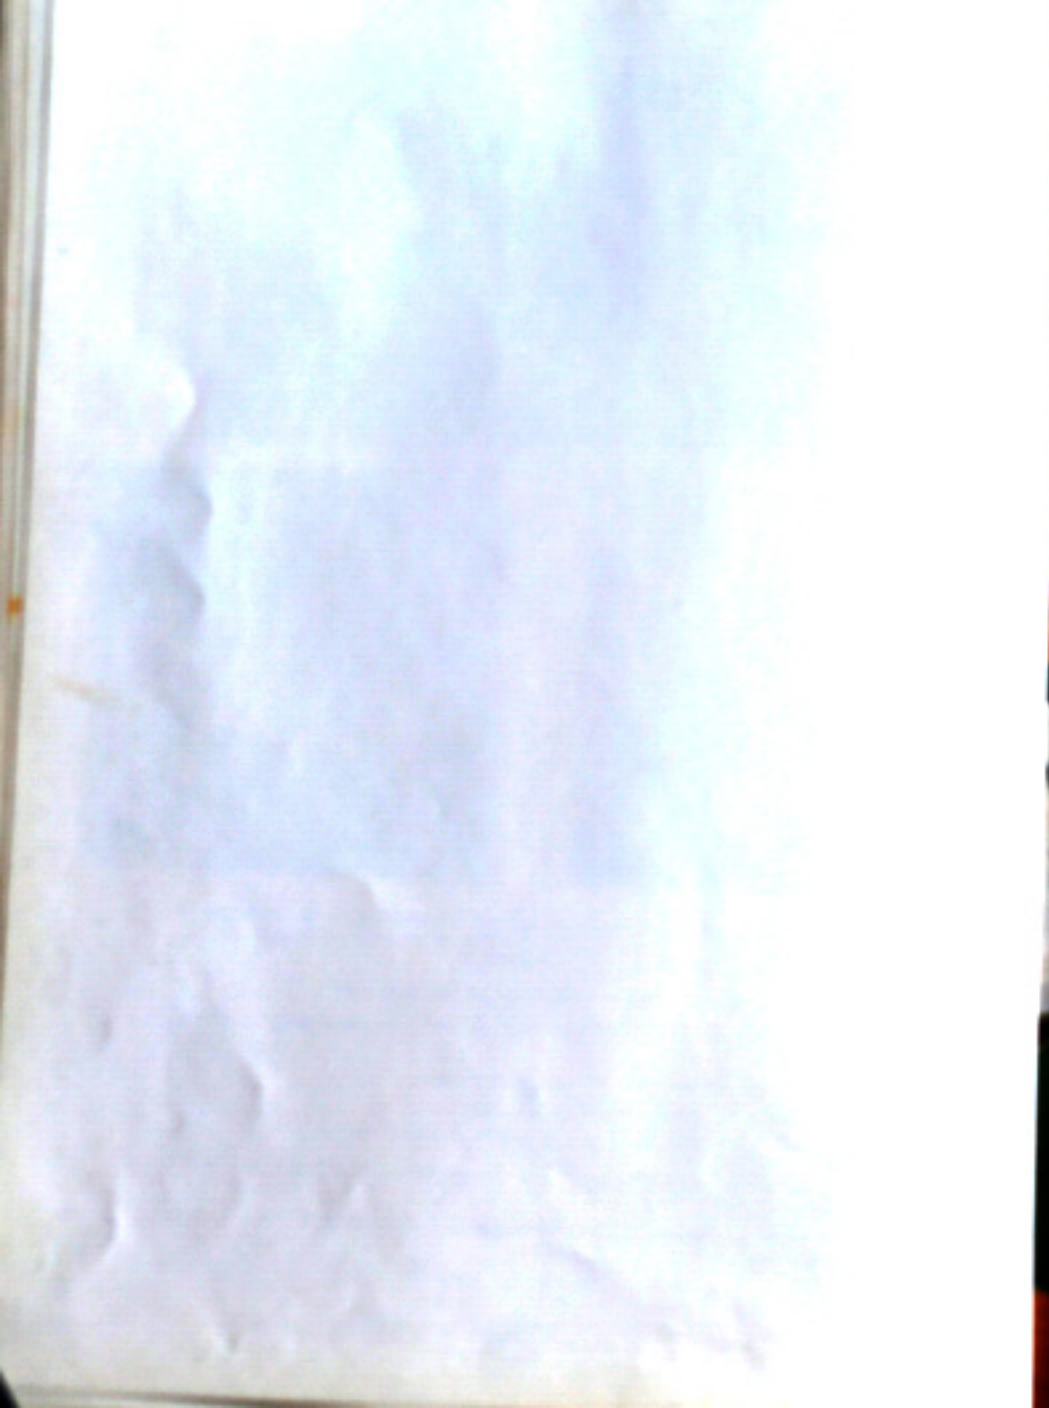

It brings to one's mind the past achievements of the institution.

It throws light on the present status of the school in the community as it relates to other institutions.

It recaptures and preserves a few endearing moments of high school life as it recalls the struggles, and victories of past times.

It tells in visible form something of the desires, the interests, and the spirit of a community for the education of its children.

A NIGHT WITH THE P.T.A.

President

The Parent-Teachers Association is an asset to Alno High School. It was instrumental in acquiring transportation for various trips the students had to make in athletics, literary events, educational trips, etc. It has led in helping those in need from fires or other loss, from business failures or crops loss, from illness or otherwise.

The P.T.A. has supported the school in its struggle to educate our children through its monthly meetings of parents and teachers, and sometimes, students, through its various programs during the school year, and through its community work to bring about a better school-community relationship. The P.T.A. has led in stamping out confusion and controversy among the elements of the school. Those who would destroy this harmonious relationship must first deal with the P.T.A.

We have seen our sons and our daughters go from Alno High School to Colleges and other institutions of training and attain highest honors; we have seen them go out into the world and succeed in various vocations. We are proud of our school.

We know that the school could not have succeeded as well in shaping the lives of the students if the P.T.A. had lagged in the performance of its duties.
