As we live we grow in wisdom and wonder in awe at the things around us. We realize that the boundaries of man's world are ever extending. We at Booker Washington are fortunate to be living in this "Age of New Dimensions". We view the glorious past, live in the rapidly moving present, and advance to a fascinating future.

A look at the past reveals the victories and achievements of Washingtonians of gone years. We see the people who have had faith in our school and who have struggled to develop it into a modern sanctuary of learning. In the present we see ourselves on the threshold of a "new world". We find that our ability to take advantage of the opportunities afforded us are enriched by the teachings of Washington School. We also see a school, comprehensive in its teachings, which keeps in step with the "new world." A glimpse at the future reveals more trusting youngsters who will enter the portals of Booker Washington to spend three remarkable years. They emerge as young adults capable of taking their places in a changing world.

The 1965 LION reexamines the past and glances ahead in an effort to enrich the present. With this background of knowledge, experience, and inspiration gained through our efforts to preserve the past, enhance the present, and improve the future, we are prepared to search for new horizons in an "Age of New Dimensions."

Fellow Washingtonians:

As our senior year draws to a close, we look back with pleasure upon the many wonderful events that will forever remain in our memory. We have attempted to capture the best and most outstanding of these memories between the covers of the LION.

We are very fortunate to have an advisor as competent as Mrs. E. B. Turpin. She has helped us over many rough spots and we cannot adequately express our thanks to her.

We hope that we have succeeded in our efforts to preserve a most memorable year with the finest words and pictures. With the sincere hope that each of you will find something special--something you will remember for a long time--we give you the 1966 LION.

Booker T. Washington takes a look at New Dimensions in Education

THEME

Today we live in an age where everyone and everything is moving rapidly. We watch in amazement as men are hurried into space to explore the unknown world of the outer limits. We no longer wait impatiently for the day when many great things will happen. They ARE happening all around us. The opportunities and challenges offered by the "Great Society" in which we live are almost as tremendous as the scientific achievements of the day.

We realize that education is the most important criterion for advancement in this modern world. The advantages of this new age can only be fully realized if we are educated to see and comprehend what we see. As the future beckons us, we realize that the enormity of our dependence on education is almost incomprehensible.

Steering this fact was the I.E.A. Convention, which viewed every phase of education in our day and age. To the participants of this convention and the American Education Week Program we offer our gratitude for giving us the inspiration for the 1965 IJON theme.

As we step into the light of the future, we become acutely aware of the marvels of scientific achievement. We understand that it is through education that we comprehend these things. Through the ages, man's efforts to receive the best education possible have been the candles that lighted his civilization and culture. These same candles have lighted the way to education and life here at Booker T. Washington Senior High School. As a tribute to the educators of yesterday, today, and tomorrow, the staff has chosen the theme "Booker T. Washington Takes a Look at Education in an Age of New Dimensions".

IN APPRECIATION . . .

"All good things must come to an end". We at Washington have come to realize the true meaning of this proverb for one of the good things in our lives stayed for so brief a time. Mr. Matthew Proctor, an energetic young educator, was whisked away from Washington on a bubble of success after a stay of a few years. Mr. Proctor left us to assume higher administrative duties at one of New Orleans' most progressive junior high schools.

Old man time shall never erase the memories we have of Mr. Proctor. The whirlwind days when he helped us plan our vocations will forever remain a part of our "fondest high school memories". Those magically enchanted days when Mr. Proctor went through so many pains to help plan "our" Junior-Senior Prom, will be among the most treasured of our remembrances.

Mr. Proctor's stay was very short but it was filled with many events that have etched themselves in our memory. To us he is a symbol of the spirit and courage of the "Age of New Dimensions". We express our deepest appreciation and gratitude to Mr. Matthew Proctor for the untiring devotion he has given to the entire Washington family.

All of us here at Booker T. Washington wish to show our appreciation to Mr. Matthew Proctor, our ex-Assistant Principal.

Mr. Proctor has assumed new duties as Acting Principal of the James Denham Junior High School.

We are expressing our sincere sorrow of his departure, and our deepest gratitude for his unlimited guidance and services.

For Devotion, . . . We dedicate the 1965 Lion to our Administrators:

Mr. Charles B. Boushove
Mr. F. D. Landry
Mr. Matthew Proctor
Mr. Mark Wheeler

We, the students of Booker T. Washington High School, are indeed proud to offer our gratitude to those members of the administration who have dedicated so much of their time and effort in our behalf. These men have taken a particular interest in the Washington family for many years. Our administration has provided us with the priceless benefits that only age and wisdom can bring. They think of others first and have always placed themselves in the background. Their kindness, generosity, and completely captivating amiability have endeared themselves to the hearts of Washington students. These men are our lights in the darkness, our comforters in the time of stress, and our usher into the "Age of New Dimensions." By their interest and concern they have given us an incentive to the future. The administration is working feverishly to develop in us a sense of accomplishment as we realize the most from the recently bestowed lesson of the Civil Rights Law. They have made us aware of our potential in personal capacities - through training, discipling, and mastering skills. Their talents and capabilities have caused them to touch every life on the B. T. W. campus, and have their profound interest in the welfare of youth has inspired our lives. With a glowing feeling of pride and love for these men, we dedicate the 1965 "LION" to the administration of Washington High School.

OUR PRINCIPAL

Charles B. Rousseve

My dear Washingtonians,

You have done well to consider in THE 1965 LION the role of education in this area of explosively rapid growth and development in many areas of life on this planet. For it is certainly true that in this "Age of New Dimensions" it is education which will serve as the magic key to open numberless doors to limitless opportunities.

I am certain that every one to whom you have addressed the beautiful dedication will be deeply moved by the kindly sentiments which you have so fervently expressed. Your devotion is truly heartwarming.

May the experiences which you have shared together at Washington have helped you to acquire the skills, wisdom, courage, and perseverance which you will need if you are to survive and to prosper in the wordless years which stretch out in splendor before you!

Very sincerely,

Charles B. Rousseve

During our three years in Washington High, probably the person leaving the greatest impression on us is Mr. Rousseve, our principal. Upon his shoulders rests the burden of running the school. His job entails being part janitor, teacher, statistician, engineer, diplomat, and policeman. We, the class of sixty-five, acknowledge and appreciate the high caliber of leadership he gave us while at Washington.

"THE REWARD OF ONE'S DUTY IS THE POWER TO FULFILL ANOTHER."

The Booker T. Washington Student Council provides effective, essential leadership, which serves as a liaison between the administration and the student body. It is a unique form of student body. It is a unique form of student government operated by and for the students. The Student Council conducts many worthwhile activities that contribute to the effectiveness of the school's program.

PRESIDENT'S COUNCIL

"REASON AND JUDGMENT ARE THE QUALITIES OF LEADERS."

PRESIDENT AMIKER

The President's Council is a distinct feature of the Washington School. It is a co-ordination of all homerooms, composed of all homeroom presidents. The function of the Council is to serve as a liaison for the homeroom and the administration. It is an active force in establishing student policy. This year the council has emphasized leadership opportunities in an "Age of New Democracies".

OBJECTIVES

- To increase the knowledge of science.
- To recognize the importance of science and the lives of students.
- To provide science education for all youth.
- To produce scientists of tomorrow.
- To encourage the curiosity of students in investigating the world around us.

DEBATING SOCIETY

"WITHOUT KNOWING THE FORCE OF WORDS, IT IS IMPOSSIBLE TO KNOW MEN."

OFFICERS

President - - - - - Henry Sample
 Vice-president - - - - - Linda Williams
 Secretary - - - - - Carolyn Charles
 Asst. Secretary - - - - - Velma Winder
 Treasurer - - - - - Yvette Porter
 Chaplain - - - - - Edward Francis
 Advisor - - - - - Mr. Casmier

OBJECTIVES

The primary objectives of the Debating Society is to function as a discussion group. Classical and contemporary plays claim most of the interest in the group. The members enrich their literary background by exchanging views and ideas about literature.

BAYOU GIRLS STATE

Carolyn Charles, Euredell Williams, Camille Ross, Merion Weldon, Carolyn Sullivan, SECOND ROW, Cheryl Mills, Martha Bomer, Patricia Spiller, FIRST ROW.

HAPPINESS LIES, FIRST OF ALL, IN HEALTH,

The objective of Girls State is to educate Louisiana's youth in the duties of privileges, rights and responsibility of American citizenship. It is wholly a plan for training in the practical mechanics of government which is so vital in this age of New Dimensions. Applications of the principles of democratic government are made every possible way. Bayou Girl's State is really a mythical fifty-first state with a constitution status and ordinances constructed by its citizens to govern themselves.

In Girls State, the young citizens have an opportunity to learn for themselves that their government is just what they make it. They are prepared to meet the wide scope of challenges offered by An Age of New Dimensions as they "learn to do by doing".

Vice-President - - - - - Barbara Jones
Secretary - - - - - Martha Bomer
Treasurer - - - - - Carolyn Monroe
Sgt.-at-Arms - - - - - Hany Bourne
Chaplain - - - - - Patricia Spiller

OBJECTIVE

The Red Cross Movement began as a result of an appeal of Jean Henri Dunant in 1869. He said "Would it not be possible to find and organize permanent societies of volunteers in all civilized countries, who would give help to the wounded in time of war without regard for nationality."

"Perhaps the most valuable result of all education is the ability to make yourself do the thing you have to do, when it ought to be done, whether you like it or not; it is the first lesson that ought to be learned; and however early a man's training begins, it is probably the last lesson that he learns thoroughly."

Thomas Henry Huxley

FINIS

We, the 1965 LION staff, hope that this yearbook will become one of your most prized possessions and that you may look back over the snapshots and remember the good old days at B. T. W.

In the future, while turning these pages, if you should remember the many smiles, joys, and dreams of '65 we shall be content, knowing that we have done the thing we were called upon to do.

The big job is finished. We look back on the many sleepless nights and frustrations and count ourselves blessed - blessed because we have learned the joy that comes from hard work.

The staff acknowledges indebtedness to all who have aided in the preparation of the 1965 LION. A special note of thanks is due the following persons: Mrs. E. B. Turpin our wonderful advisor; the staff of the Nolan Marshall Studios for the excellent pictures; and Yvonne Marie Poeter for her valuable assistance.

As the halls grow dim and the classrooms quiet, we hope this book will bring back the memories of the year and hold this school forever in your memory.

The 1965 LION Staff
Linda Williams, Editor
