Staff

The Editors' Note

It is a pleasure to greet you and bring you greetings from the staff of '56.

We say to the principal, faculty, and students that we have enjoyed our stay here at Webster, even more than we can express. To the annual staff, it has been a great experience for us as well as fun, working with you.

We should like to take time out "now" to compliment our beloved principal, faculty, and last but certainly not least, our dear parents for the fine job that they are doing in helping us prepare for the future.

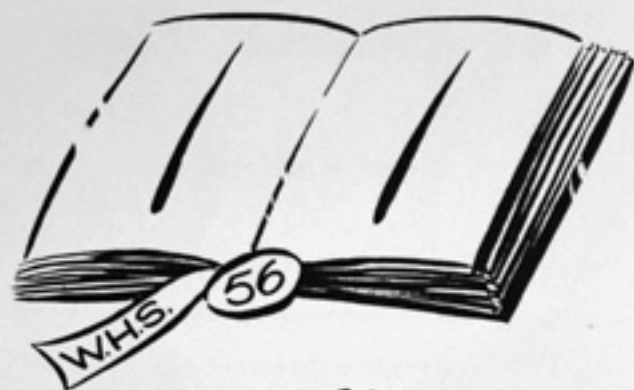

We have a fine school with a good reputation, so why don't we do our best to keep it that way?

Allow us to leave this thought with you: "Keep your head up and walk straight" because "If we have the school at heart, we can always do our part."

Supervisor*

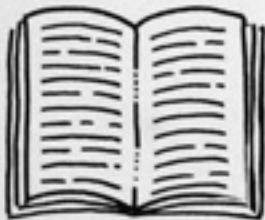

Dear Friends:

Personal felicitations and congratulations to you upon the dedication of another volume in the life history of Webster High School. My own associations with the school, its principal and staff, have given me a genuine appreciation for the worth of the school's program with its commitment to service. I have noticed with a great deal of interest and pride the wonderful progress made in training our youth to meet the many problems and responsibilities imposed upon them in this age of challenge. Much success to you as you continue to achieve the "good life" in our community, our state and our nation.

Sincerely,

Grace N. Landry

Principal's Message "1955-56"

No words could express so vividly the success of our school program as a few excerpts from the report of the visiting committee that evaluated our school October 25-26-27, 1955: "The faculty of the school carried on their activities with due punctuality, and through their many courtesies made the committee's visit a pleasant experience; The committee feels that Webster High School is out in front as far as the majority of high schools in the state who are using the core program in their school; It wishes to commend the school community and faculty for their school Health Council; Procedures indicated that teacher dominated situations are being kept at a minimum throughout the school; The visiting committee believes that the pupil activity program at Webster High School certainly ranks with the best program in our state; Evidence of the well integrated guidance program is reflected in the student's positive attitude toward visitors, teachers, their peers, and education in general; The Visiting Committee on School Staff and Administration is highly pleased to find a most competent staff as evidenced by the high caliber of instruction observed.

The above comments were picked at random from the many fine comments of the Visiting Committee. We at Webster High School are proud of our students, citizens, and school program. North Louisiana State Football Champs, an excellent evaluation, and many other honors serve as a stimulus for us to work harder.

"A Tedious Journey"

The class of '44 started on this tedious journey with the late J. L. Jones as principal.

We were green as new-born calves, ready to begin our 12 year journey.

Our first grade teachers were mistresses M. D. Moore, M. L. Citison, and the late Ann Lane Smith. These faithful teachers guided and protected these crying babies on their first journey to the second milestone.

The school bells are ringing again and we are on the second grade march. Our teachers were mistresses Wright and Reed. This was a glorious year for us, because we were a year older in age, and looking forward to being promoted to the third grade.

Our third grade teachers were mistresses Jordan, Kimble and T. L. Yancy Morris. This was also a year of thrills and excitement, because we moved from the model building to the brick building. We looked forward each day for the hour of recess, so we could romp, skip, play and jump.

The session of 1947-48 brought sadness to our hearts because our link was broken. We lost our beloved principal J. L. Jones. We were at a loss, wondering what we would do without a principal.

As fate would have it, a dynamic young man came forth to our rescue and continued to mold the lives of young people. This man is none other than our own beloved principal, W. L. Hayes.

The years continued to roll by and we marched on through the following grades: Fifth, Sixth, and Seventh.

Here we are again, green crabs, full of vim, vigor, and vitality. This year we were full of exuberance, we dropped our skirts, powdered our noses, and curled our hair.

Our eighth grade year was an exciting one. We almost drove Miss Mitchell, Mr. Sterling, and Mr. Turner stone crazy!

We became a little more civilized as the years passed on through our last three school sessions.

In the ninth grade, we were divided into four classes. Our sponsors were: Mr. Flentroy, Miss White, Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. Duty, Mr. Shaw, and Miss Mitchell. We had a time getting adjusted to Miss Mitchell's changing personality. Some days she would roar like a lion, and some days she was as gentle as a lamb.

In our tenth year, we tried very hard to have a "Freshman-Sophomore Ball," but Mr. Hayes said "No Soap."

We had the pleasure for a whole half day of moving to the new Webster High School, a very beautiful and spacious building. The old school was changed to J. L. Jones Elementary School in honor of our late principal.

We entered the eleventh grade under the jurisdiction of Mrs. A. J. Johnson, Mrs. Duty, Mr. Bostic, Mr. O. Johnson, and Mrs. H. C. Wilson.

The Junior-Senior Prom was the event of the year. The theme was "Winter Wonderland," with snowmen and snowballs. In the fall of September, 1955, we entered school as proud as peacocks, spreading our feathers of dignity, holding our heads high, and answering, "Senior."

Mr. Tobin, Mrs. Citison, and Miss Gunn will always be remembered as our two mothers and daddy, who guided us through the last milestone.

Mr. Hayes: The class of '56 expresses its gratitude to you for your understanding, kindness, and guidance through our high school days.

We go forth from this school feeling that it has played a splendid part in fitting us for the harder task before us.

May you continue to keep up the good work of molding the lives of young people to meet the demands of this changing world, and society in which we live.

We will always remember dear old Webster and the many happy days we spent here. Through our tears, smiles, and sorrows there were sunshine.

Now, we bid our Alma Mater a fond "Adieu!"

Miss Webster

Mattie L. Lewis

Message From Miss Webster;
To the Principal, Faculty, and Students:

I am very appreciative to you for having made my reign as "Miss Webster" a successful and happy one. I shall always feel indebted to you because without your toil and sweat, I could not have trodden the dusty road. Again I say, "Thanks to you."

To the future "Miss Webster," I say, I have striven to leave a vestige of loyalty, which I pray that you will maintain. Upon you will be bestowed the highest honor which a student may hold at Webster. With this honor goes a responsibility to maintain the standards of high morals, character and greater worthiness. The honor also challenges you to be a guiding star for those who are to follow. Honor, obey, and respect our dear beloved principal, Mr. W. L. Hayes and our teachers who are striving to mold us into better men and women of tomorrow.

The honor of being "Miss Webster" has been a glorious one for me and also an inspiring factor in my life.

To you, the heir of this honor, I say, "For many months or years may pass, do not let your title drag in the dust; but stand upright graciously and be a guiding star for others."

HONORS DAY

Honors Day was originated three years ago under the supervision of Mr. F. L. Knox. It has become an annual affair.

Students strive diligently to maintain an "A" or "B" average to participate in this affair. Miss Grace N. Landry was the speaker for this year. She delivered a very inspiring message.
