Foreword

As you explore the Wolf, we sincerely hope that it will paint a vivid picture of some schoolmates who have once been a part of our beloved "Webster Dear old Webster. "We realize that to face this changing society we will need God our dear Saviour with us. We ask his blessings and Guidance for our dear Alma Mater and its instructors.

We hope you will find this exploration an enjoyable one as you observe the well-arranged scenery of the Wolf and the exciting voyage around the school as it is now.

Webster will forever remain in our hearts and minds, because "We owe our all to thee, and no matter where we roam, you'll be our High School Home, Webster, We Love You."

The Staff

Dedication

For thirty years or more, Webster High School has stood as a center of learning and culture in North Louisiana.

Hundreds of students have gone out from Webster to take their places in colleges, universities, vocations, jobs, and cottage courses. The records of achievements and measures of success they have left behind are indications that Webster High School is an institution of learning which any community should be proud to call its own.

Webster High School stands as a monument to education. Figuratively speaking, we may say that its defensive walls have been our helmets of knowledge, breastplates of guidance and a shield against the harmful winds of illiteracy; its doors have opened the way to learning; its windows have let in the rays of knowledge and truth; its roof has withstood the storms of chaos and discontentment. Within its walls, its warmth has served as a comforter and beckoning friend, distributing love and friendship among students and teachers.

To every wholesome and uplifting influence which has helped to make Webster High School what it has been and is - we, the editors of the Wolf, dedicate this space, in this, our edition of the annual.

Editor's Message

We The Annual Staff of '58 are very proud of this year's edition of "The Wolf." We hope, as you look through these pages, that you will appreciate our efforts.

Our last year here has been a pleasurable one. We feel that through the combined efforts of our parents and teachers we have gained knowledge which will give us immunity against the diseases of illiteracy and ingratitude.

We will always be loyal to this, our beloved "Alma Mater," and will cherish in our memories the many wonderful experiences we have enjoyed here. We offer our compliments and thanks to our parents and teachers for helping to prepare us for combating the challenges which will confront us in the present democracy in which we now live.

Tribute

Staff

We wish to pay tribute, high tribute to the educator of ('56-'57) fourth district of North Louisiana, who is none other than our own principal, Mr. W. Leon Hayes.

Mr. Hayes has made such professional achievements as having received his bachelor's degree, has done some educational writings, is an active member of several professional organizations, active in civics and religious activities, he is a husband and a father and most of all he is a man, one that we Websterites can be proud of.

The high standards that he represents serve as a guiding light to students, not only Webster students, but American students. This light seems to reflect the words of Horace Mann, "Be ashamed to die, until you have won some victory for humanity."

Because of the unique position of the world leadership we Americans find ourselves in, and because of the recent happenings in the scientific inventions, those of you who are graduating from Webster High School this year and surely those of you who are to remain for another year or more have a great opportunity to excel and while excelling can be contributing factors in making this world a better place to live in.

On every hand we hear the cry of academic excellency. Speaking of academic excellency reminds me of the parable of the talents. All of us can not be top scientists, mathematicians, etc, but each can take the talent or talents and develop it or them to the maximum.

With the new awaking of the part of the public relative to the importance of free public education and with the coming of more public money to sponsor better educational programs, I challenge you with this statement: DO NOT BE SATISFIED WITH MEDIOCRITY! Wherever you go, work up to your capacity. Burn the midnight oil. Dig! Dig! Dig! America needs the extraordinary, yet there is a definite place in this our democracy for the ordinary that works up to his or her capacity.

W. Leon Hayes

Webster's Message*

I am indeed grateful for the fine friendship and support that the principal, teachers, and students have given me during my reign as "Miss Webster." I know it is the highest honor that can be bestowed upon any young lady at Webster High School. I shall endeavor to always carry high the banner of Webster High School. I regret very much that I have not been able to thank each of you personally, but I am indeed glad to have this means of conveying my thanks to you.

I cannot keep from thinking of how happy I was when you elected me. I could not have won without your loyal support. So each of you were a part of a wonderful dream, I assure you that I will stand up for what I believe to be right and will persevere in spite of hardship or opposition. I wish you the best of good luck and happiness always.
