

L' AIGLE 1972

*L'AIGLE 1972
SECOND WARD H.S.
EDGARD,
LOUISIANA
VOLUME 1*

FOREWORD

As the elementary years pass by, one tends to seek a new kind of world. To endeavor in that said world, one may come to crave for the existence of a beacon or helm to guide him. Will that guiding helm's origin stem from the individual students, instructors, or principal? Suffice it to say, no. This guiding helm matured through the merging of all of these great sources. The guiding helm I speak of is a light of endurance sharing its being with those wanting to be guided to a still greater world. The helm of Second Ward shadows the horizon with constant bearers of strength. The bearers are the outstanding individuals which evolved through the merging of those great sources.

Getting the work done at Second Ward takes a lot of effort. Participation in the classroom as well as on the campus during those hectic days are very enjoyable. The day of Homecoming was especially enjoyable because participation and effort were excessively great.

Many organizations on campus received beneficial help from interesting advisors to make student life more interesting and compatible at Second Ward.

A MESSAGE FROM THE EDITOR

Being the editor of the yearbook is the most wonderful thing that could happen to me. I have assumed the responsibilities that a yearbook presents. As editor of the staff, I am proud to portray my abilities, to make the yearbook a success.

Since this is our first time having a yearbook, I strived to do my best and make the yearbook one of the most remarkable things that ever happened to Second Ward. Although the 1972 Eagle has presented insurmountable tasks for us, we still have had lots of fun making it what it is. We do not want to prognosticate how the students will react to the yearbook, but we hope that they will enjoy it.

Further, we would like to extend gratitude and thanks to our sponsors, administration, faculty, photographers, and the art and commerce departments. We also want to express special appreciation to the financial contributors, who have helped to make the publication of the 1972 Eagle possible.

ALMA MATER

Dear Second Ward you stand for preparation. To meet the strains and stress of life today. Kind Mother we are ever truly grateful. We now go forth upon our chosen way. We'll cherish thee for thy great inspiration. Sacrifices that made thee live and grow. Our only song for life shall reign in blooming.

Dear Second Ward we love
thee so.

Dear Second Ward thy children exalt thee And pray that God will keep you in his care, although our days within your midst are ending, we'll now go forth upon our chosen way. We'll keep thy peace and always will remember thee, and then thy praises we will always sing. We'll go through life forever cherishing thy name. Dear Second Ward, Dear Second Ward We love thee so.
